The Colombian Methodist Church has reported that one of their congregations in Cali has been affected and that it is working with local pastors to respond with support for these communities. ALL SAINTS NEWS

Derek Kay, Diane's father, has been admitted to the JR, Ward 7C after collapsing at home last Monday night. He is being treated for an infection at present, so we don't know how long he will be an inpatient. He is being wonderfully and sympathetically looked after, for which we, as a family, are very grateful. Diane

Advance notice for your diaries: Global Harvest Supper at All Saints, Saturday September 19th 6pm. Details to follow.

MESSY CHURCH IS COMING TO TRINITY

Be sure to read Clare's article further on in these notices.

Our next Messy Church planning meeting will take place on Wednesday 16 September at 7.30 pm.

We would love to hear more voices and welcome anyone interested in helping to shape this exciting new ministry.

Please come along and support this fresh approach to growth and outreach.

Several Trinity First Aiders have certificates that expire in October, so this is a good opportunity to renew your qualification. We would also welcome anyone who is interested in becoming a First Aider for the first time.

If you are interested, please contact Alastair Fear at church or via alastair.fear@gmail.com or 07999 134 175.

Roof Works: A huge thank you to everyone who has responded to our Gift Day Appeal by making a donation towards the essential repairs needed to the Church and Conduit Centre roofs. The donations we have received so far total over £21,700, ie almost 95% of the £23,000 needed. There is still time to make donations. If you wish to donate by bank transfer, please include 'roofs' in the reference.

We are now confident that we can reach our target, so a contract to do the much-needed works have been agreed and work is scheduled to start on early October.

MESSY CHURCH – Clare's experience 2009 to 2013

Messy Church in Brinkworth, a large village in North Wiltshire, started as a way to reach out to our communities where families were not coming to church any more. The aim was 'to do church differently', by going to them on a weekday, in a fun and creative way.

After school, the children came into Brinkworth Village Hall, with a parent.

They had a drink, made a name badge then did a short hour of craft; next there was a 15 minutes worship celebration which was followed by a sit-down-together cooked tea; it was all over by 5.30pm for the families.

In our first year, 2009, we held 3; in 2010 we held 4 Messy Churches, 6 in 2011.

It took a lot of planning and required lots of helpers for craft, worship and catering.

Ideas for themes came from Lucy Moore's book 'Messy Church - fresh ideas for building a Christ centred community', published in 2006 by The Bible Reading Fellowship.

Numbers attending increased - we had mums, dads, grandparents, child-minders, older siblings later on,

We learnt as we went along, changing something each session, and felt that the overall mix was working well with many non-church families coming along.

Some became regular attendees and we continued to attract new families.

We felt that God was working in our community through Messy Church.

Church and school links strengthened – invitations were sent home to all children beforehand; craft was displayed afterwards at both sites of the federated village primary schools, Church of England Voluntary Controlled.

Messy Church was 'messy' because

- we included messy crafts
- we aimed to gather in those around the messy edges of our local church area who did not worship regularly but liked to feel the church was there for weddings, funerals, baptisms, times of stress, times of celebration

With Messy Church

- we were being a worshipping community of all ages, centred on Christ;
- we were giving people a chance to express their creativity and have fun within a church context;
- we were showing Christian hospitality and sat down to eat a meal together.

It was rewarding to feel we were also keeping promises we made at Baptisms to support the child (or adult), and their families, to grow in grace and the knowledge and love of God and of his son Jesus Christ our Lord.

In 2009, the Diocese of Bristol was three years into its 'Going for Growth' strategy with the strategic aim of 'Building local communities of wholeness with Christ at the centre' and for every parish to have a rolling growth plan with 4 key components: growth in influence, growth in commitment, growth in numbers, growing together. Growth in numbers included 'Being sensitive to both context and culture (e.g. new expressions, church transplants)' and 'Focussing on Children and Young People'. The introduction and development of Messy Church was part of our response.

Future Pillars Zambia

Hunger - Food - Brain Power ~ Hunger - Food - Brain Power

A Message from Rosemary, 3 Kingston Close OX14 1ES

Future Pillars Zambia – Food and Farming Project.

I am a Founding Trustee of this small charity in Zambia. We began when we saw a lady teaching children arithmetic and reading under a tree, writing in the sand. Based in Oxfordshire, Hampshire and Cornwall we have built a School, Skills Training Centre and MOST importantly a Feeding Programme. We are a Christian group, centred around 3 very poor shanty compounds. All our children are vulnerable and bought to us by Social Services.

I invite you to 4 meals at my house, over the summer, to raise funds for Future Pillars Zambia - Food & Farming Project. (futurepillarszambia.org.uk)

Our feeding programme (feed the stomach - feed the brain) needs long term funding and to this end we are in negotiation with a local farmer to purchase land, in order to grow our own crops and sell some for ongoing expenses, ie fuel, plates, utensils, employing a manager. The Trustees in UK and the Leadership Team in Kabwe are, together, working on a business plan.
